

PIERPONT MORGAN THE "MASTER MIND"

MELLEN TELLS OF HIS DOMINANT CONTROL OF NEW HAVEN OFFICIALS

Former President of the Road Admits That Neither He Nor Any of His Directors Had the Temerity Openly to Oppose the Late Financier's Plans.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—That former Senator Nelson W. Aldrich was primarily instrumental for the sale of the Rhode Island Trolley System to the New Haven for $19,000,000 or $20,000,000 was the statement made late today by Chas. S. Mellen, former president of the road in his testimony before the inter-state commerce commission. In resuming the stand, Mr. Mellen further emphasized the dominant control by the late J. Pierpont Morgan not only of the properties of the New Haven and Hartford but of its officials. The witness referred to Mr. Morgan as the "master mind" of the system.

Mr. Mellen admitted frankly that neither he nor any of his directors had the temerity openly to oppose Mr. Morgan's plans, although he said he sometimes disagreed with him.

Even in the acquisition of the New Haven of the Westchester property, into which millions of dollars vanished as thin air, Mr. Mellen, who declared he did not approve of the purchase, insisted that, had Mr. Morgan lived, the property might have been far more valuable than it is today.

Pay High Prices for Stock.

So, too, it was with the acquisition of the Westchester, Nassau & Rochester railroad, in which Mr. Morgan, Mr. Mellen said, was responsible for paying $15 a share more than the stock really was worth. As in the Westchester transaction, however, Mr. Morgan, according to Mr. Mellen would brook no interference, carrying out his plans practically without the regard of opinions of others interested. Acquisition of the New Haven of trolley lines in Connecticut and Rhode Island occupied much attention at today's proceedings. Mr. Mellen conceded that some of the properties had been purchased at too high prices but added that they were worth more to the New Haven at the time, than to anybody else. In purchasing the lines particularly those in Connecticut he said, he encountered "sharp competition" from other prospective purchasers, and thereby the price was "boosted."

Aldrich Takes a Hand.

Chief Counsel Folk taking up the purchase by the New Haven of the Rhode Island trolley system, asked if there had not been a break in the negotiations after they had been begun.

"There was an interruption of some months, possibly the most of a year," answered Mr. Mellen.

"What caused you to resume the negotiations after they halted?"

"Oh, I had conversations regarding the matter with Mr. Morgan, Mr. Dolan and others."

"Didn't Senator Nelson W. Aldrich see you about the matter?"

"Yes, he called at my home at Stockbridge and asked me what the status of the negotiations was. I told him that from my standpoint I did not think I could yield to the terms. He said he thought them too severe and that he was going to see Mr. Dolan as understood it, and I presume he did. I believe it was the call of Mr. Aldrich on me at Stockbridge that resulted in the resumption of the negotiations, but how important was his influence or what action he took I don't know."

"Did the facts that he was a United States senator at that time have any weight with you?" interrogated Mr. Folk.

"That had no influence with me in the matter."

"Wasn't he a large stockholder in the Rhode Island trolley?"

"I think he was."

Mellen's letter to Aldrich.

The following letter from Mr. Mellen to Senator Aldrich under date of August 20th, 1906, was read by Mr. Folk:

"My Dear Senator:

"Am I wrong in the impression that I was to hear from you again regarding the matter we discussed at our last interview before taking any action?"

"It was my understanding you were to get some definite assurance that was to be transmitted to me, which I could use as basis for presentation to my directors for action and I handed you a copy of the trust that has been provided for the handling of the matter and other similar matters and since my return to my office I sent you a copy of the contract by which the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, becomes the guarantor of all the preferred shares that were to be issued by said trust."

"I have taken no action on the understanding that I was to hear from you further but the delay has been so long I am in doubt whether or not there is not some misunderstanding as a result of our interview."

"What was the definite assurance alluded to?" asked Mr. Folk.

"That Mr. Aldrich was to bring about a resumption of the negotiations."

"What was the reference to a 'trust'?"

"That refers to the formation of a voluntary association which is done under the laws of Massachusetts to carry out transactions."

"We paid about twice the value of the properties, but we thought"

ROOSEVELT USES "BIG STICK" ON WILSON ADMINISTRATION

Criticizes Attitude in Controversy With Columbia—Objects to Payment of $25,000,000 "Blackmail"—Opposes Repeal of Tolls Exemption Clause—Launches 1914 Campaign.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., May 20.—On the first day after his return from South America, Theodore Roosevelt launched himself into the progressive campaign of 1914. In his first statement on the political situation, the former president criticized the Wilson administration's attitude in the controversy with Columbia. He objected strongly to what he termed the payment of $25,000,000 "blackmail" to the little republic.

The colonel also expressed himself strongly opposed to the repeal of the law for the exemption of American coast-wise ships from payment of Panama tolls. He said that it was perfectly right to arbitrate the question but declared that to yield the point unequivocally was indefensible, as he was convinced that the United States was within its rights in freeing coastwise ships from tolls. A large part of the day Colonel Roosevelt spent in conference with George W. Perkins of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the Progressive national committee.

Mr. Perkins has been steadily at work since the 1912 campaign in organizing the new party in all sections of the country and his mission to Oyster Bay was to acquaint the former president with present day conditions in the field of politics.

Gifford Pinchot, the Progressive candidate for United States senator from Pennsylvania, also had a long meeting with Colonel Roosevelt.

Colonel Roosevelt's political activities today removed all doubts whether he would take an active part in the campaign this year. It is known that he expects to make one of the most arduous fights of his career. Although no definite plans have been formed, it is probable that in September he will make a trip from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific, speaking in most of the states. On May 30th, Colonel Roosevelt will sail for Spain for the wedding of his son Kermit.

In the intervening period of little more than a week he will attempt to start into motion the machinery for the campaign and with other leaders of the party to decide upon the lines which the fight is to be made. On his return from Europe about July 1st, he will begin the campaign proper, which is expected to keep him hard at work until election day.

One day of the quietude and bracing air of Sagamore Hill wrought a great change in Colonel Roosevelt's manner and appearance. Tonight he was full of vigor and walked with full free swing. There was no trace of the fatigue that was so noticeable when he climbed slowly up the gangway, leaning on a cane, or leaving the tug which brought him home last night.

Tomorrow morning Colonel Roosevelt goes to New York to get new clothes and shoes for his son's wedding, returning early for the delayed celebration in honor of his home-coming at Oyster Bay.

When he goes to Washington next week, he said, he will be ready to refute statements of Henry Savage Lander of England and others, who have expressed doubt as to the correctness of his statement that he had discovered a great river in the wilds of South America.

"The river is still there," said the colonel with a laugh. "It was not like climbing an unexplored mountain or going to the north pole for such expeditions leave no traces which are there a year later."

FOUR MEN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Bizerta, Africa, May 20.—Four men were killed and one badly scalded through an accident in the stoke hole of the French Destroyer Renaudin today. The Renaudin was participating in maneuvers.

JUNE 15 IS FLAG DAY.

Springfield, Ills., May 20.—In a proclamation issued today, Governor Dunne designates Monday, June 15, as Flag Day, this being the 137th anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the national emblem.

They soon would be worth what we gave."

Tells of Loan to Newspaper.

Mr. Mellen also told of the loan of $30,000 to Mr. Haskell, owner of the Boston Herald and of his part in the re-organization of the paper to which he said, however, that he paid no special attention. He said he knew little of payments for advertising carried in the Boston Republic owned by Mayor Fitzgerald.

At the close of the day, Mr. Mellen who had been telling his story in a vigorous manner, giving illuminating side lights upon every detail of importance, precipitately tired. His voice began to lose its resonance and clearness and several times he had to be admonished by counsel and commissioners to speak louder. His weariness seemed to be purely physical however. His answers were prompt and direct and he apparently retained to the full his wonderful powers of memory and his comprehensive grasp of details about which he was interrogated.

Mr. Mellen will resume the witness stand tomorrow morning.

SOUTHERNERS GET UNFAIR PROPORTION

READJUSTMENT OF FUNDS OF AGRICULTURAL BILL SOUGHT

Senator Kenyon's Amendment Would Set Aside $250,000 For Farm Economics and $400,000 For Farm Demonstration in the 33 States Not Getting Benefit of $628,000 Appropriation.

WEDNESDAY IN CONGRESS

Bills on the house calendar considered.

Watkins bill to revise judicial code again occupied entire day.

Adjourned at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Senate.
Met at 11 a. m.

Panama tolls debate resumed. Attempt to reach agreement for vote on tolls repeal, May 27, defeated.

Adjourned at 5:40 p. m., until 11 a. m. Thursday.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Senator Kenyon of Iowa today brought about a readjustment by the senate of the funds for farm demonstration work in the pending agricultural appropriation bill on the plea that the southern states were getting an unfair proportion of the money.

Senator Kenyon contended that the $628,000 appropriated for farm demonstration and cotton boll weevil work was all used by the department of agriculture for farm demonstration in the fifteen states where the cotton boll weevil exists. He argued, too, that out of the $400,000 appropriated for farm demonstration work for the other states, $250,000 was used for farm economic studies for the whole country.

His amendment adopted by the senate, would set aside $250,000 specifically for farm economics and $400,000 for farm demonstration in the 33 states, not getting the benefit of the $628,000 appropriation.

Senate Ratifies Convention.

A convention between the United States and practically all the nations of Europe for the purpose of suppressing traffic in obscene publications, particularly post cards, was ratified tonight by the senate.

Ratify Arbitration Treaties.

The senate tonight ratified without debate agreements extending for five years the general arbitration treaties with Austro-Hungary, the Netherlands and Salvador. Secretary Bryan announced that the treaty with Columbia would not be presented to the senate until the Panama tolls question had been decided.

Allowances to Be Discontinued.

Allowances aggregating $13,000,000 heretofore made to iron and steel industrial railways by trunk line railroads in the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac finally have been ordered discontinued by the inter-state commerce commission. The commission held the allowances were substantially rebates and that there was no reason why they should not be held by the railroads as a part of their income.

Prospects for Action Fade.

Prospects for action at this session of congress on either the nation-wide prohibition or the woman suffrage proposed constitutional amendments faded further away today as the result of developments in the house.

While presenting to the house two telegrams from religious gatherings praying for congressional action on the prohibition resolution, Representative Hobson of Alabama, its sponsor announced that for the present he did not purpose to press it.

Two delegations vainly sought to have the house rules committee accord another hearing on suffrage.

WANT SPRINGFIELD NAMED PERMANENT MEETING PLACE

Capital City Doctors Offer State Medical Society Library and Place For Associations Documents.

Decatur, Ill., May 20.—The second day of the Illinois State Medical Society convention was devoted to numerous papers read in the main session and the several divisions. The important development of the day was the campaign the Springfield city named the permanent meeting place of the society. The Springfield doctors are prepared to offer the society a medical library and a place for the documents of the association. This plan will have considerable opposition although Springfield is giving Bloomington a strong race for the convention.

A warm discussion developed today over a paper read by Dr. J. B. Bacon, of Macomb, advocating the starvation method of treating appendicitis and declaring that operations were unnecessary. Dr. John B. Murphy of Chicago took the lead in opposing this plan.

Treatment of curvature of the spine and the prevention of infantile diseases formed an important part in the discussion and papers.

The eye, ear, nose and throat section elected Dr. C. B. Welton of Peoria, chairman and Dr. Joseph Beck of Chicago secretary.

Banquets of the Rush Medical college, Jefferson Medical college, Northwestern University of Illinois and University of Michigan alumni took place at noon and in the evening. Tomorrow's session closes the convention, officers being elected and the convention city named.

HUNDREDS FIGHT FLAMES IN THE NORTHERN WOODS

Men Fighting Progress of Fire in Michigan Forests—Rain Helps Check Fires in Wisconsin.

Detroit, Mich., May 20.—While the danger from forest fires in many sections of the lower peninsula of Michigan had abated tonight, reports from Presque Isle county said several families of settlers and a lumber camp containing 37 men were surrounded by brush fires and were believed to be in peril. Hundreds of men were fighting the progress of the flames.

Drizzling Rain Checks Fires.

Ashland, Wis., May 20.—A drizzling rain today checked the forest fires in this section. Red Cliff Village on the Indian reservation near Bayfield is reported wiped out. Extensive damage was done to telephone lines throughout the north part of the state. The telephone exchange at Spencer is reported burned.

TWO MEN DROWN IN CAISSON

Two Die and Three Barely Escape When Cofferdam in Norwalk Harbor Breaks.

South Norwalk, Conn., May 20.—Two men were drowned in a caisson and three barely escaped with their lives, when a cofferdam used in the construction of a bridge in Norwalk harbor broke late tonight. Robert Cleghow Dewart of East Orange, N. J., the bridge engineer and Joseph Culp of Hoboken, N. J., chief carpenter, were the ones drowned, it was believed.

NAVY DEPARTMENT DECIDES TO WITHDRAW PART OF FLEET

General Slackening of Tension in Mexican Situation Results in Decision—Still no News of Silliman.

Washington, May 20.—Then general slackening of tension in the Mexican situation resulted today in the decision of the navy department to withdraw part of the fleet now on the east coast of Mexico. Acting Secretary Roosevelt said he hoped within five days to have four battleships, five destroyers and a tender on the way north for overhauling and repairs. Another important development of the day was a conference called by Secretary Bryan at the state department of British Ambassador Spring-Rice and Minister Van Rappard of the Netherlands to consider conditions in the Tampico oil fields. Protests, it was reported, had been received from oil operators that during the absence of American lease holders prior to the capture of the city by the constitutionalists, federal officials had negotiated transfers of the American leases to British and Dutch oil men.

Similar protests that Dutch and British holders might suffer since the constitutionalists assumed control followed. An understanding was reached that transfers made during the siege of Tampico would not be recognized.

The state department, still without result, continued its efforts to secure information as to the fate of Consul John R. Silliman at Saltillo. The failure of the Brazilian minister in Mexico City to secure any definite word from Silliman and the failure of the Mexican foreign office to turn over the consul, resulted in efforts in other directions.

"We are now seeking information as to Silliman from sources other than through Mexico City," said Secretary Bryan.

No further official information was forthcoming in the case of Private Samuel Parks. The state department is still without reply to the note in which it demanded information about Parks and characterized his reported execution as "a hostile and unfriendly act."

Assurances that the family of T. J. Smith at Tonala, Mexico is safe under the protection of British and Brazilian diplomatic officers and that every effort is being made to secure the release from imprisonment of Smith himself were received by the Secretary.

According to previous state department advices, Smith and his family were imprisoned by the Mexican authorities at Tonala charged with shooting three rurales who attempted to enter their home.

Constitutionalists who have occupied San Blas on the west coast of Mexico have enforced order and have guaranteed protection to Americans and other foreigners according to a report from Rear Admiral Howard.

"It is currently reported," said a statement from the department, "that large numbers of federalists are deserting to the constitutionalists in the Tepic district. The embargo on American shipping has been lifted."

Trinidad, Colo., May 20.—Under guard of United States cavalry Ludlow, the striking coal miners' tent colony which was destroyed in the fatal battle between miners' militia and mine guards on April 20th, was re-established today.

MEDIATORS FORMALLY OPEN CONFERENCE

DELEGATES CONFIDENT OF ULTIMATE PACIFICATION OF ALL MEXICO

Commissioners From the United States, Mexico and Three South American Republics Hold Initial Session in Niagara Falls, Ontario, and Perfect Preliminary Organization.—Brazilian Ambassador to Direct Proceedings.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 20.—Marking a new era in the relations of the western hemisphere, delegates from the United States, Mexico and three great South American republics formally opened today the mediation conference which they hope will bring peace to Mexico.

Confidence in the amicable settlement not only of the differences which have arisen between the United States and Huerta but in the ultimate pacification of all Mexico through the avenues of diplomacy was reflected here tonight by the mediators.

A despatch from Mexico City to the effect that General Huerta was ready to retire, although contradicted by corrected dispatches which stated that he had given his delegates no instructions to offer his resignation was received with interest. It was stated that an error in transmission had given rise to the first statement.

Clothed With Full Power.

Authentic advices through diplomatic sources several days ago stated that the Mexican commissioners were clothed with full power to act and had been authorized to agree to the elimination of Huerta if necessary to bring about settlement of their country's internal and international troubles. This last step, it was said, would be taken only after it was apparent to the commissioners that there was no hope of a settlement on any other basis.

The attitude of all the Mexicans in attendance upon the diplomatic council was similar to that displayed when they were informed in New York a few days ago that the German ambassador in Washington had received a dispatch from Mexico City that General Huerta had expressed his willingness to retire under conditions honorable to himself or if necessary to a solution of the Mexican problem.

"Their feeling was that the reported announcement today was 'merely premature' which phrase was taken from the expression of one of the diplomats when he was informed of the correction in today's dispatches."

It was clear from statements made here that if an announcement of willingness to retire comes from Huerta in the near future it will be welcomed as making more remote any possibility of the resumption of hostilities between the United States and Mexico.

It was argued also that with Huerta out, the mediators might entertain hope that Carranza and his constitutionalist followers would be brought into conference or become parties to any agreement reached.

During the day the Brazilian ambassador received a message from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City couched in the most hopeful terms about mediation and indicating, it is understood, that General Huerta was prepared to relinquish office. The Mexican delegates reiterated here they represented no political or personal interests in Mexico and that they were non-partisan in their views.

"We are as devoid of political connection as Justice Lamar, for instance," said Augustin Rodriguez, one of the Mexican commissioners illustrating the disconnection of himself and his colleagues from the cauldron of Mexican politics.

Another of the Mexican delegates based his hopes for the solution of the entire Mexican problem on the ability of all parties concerned to come to some agreement on the complexion of a provisional government which would be able to give sufficient guarantees for the preservation of law and order and which could resolve the land question and other problems considered to be peculiarly fundamental in the Mexican imbroglio.

On behalf of the United States and Mexico, Justice Lamar and Emilio Rabasa, respectively, made brief speeches expressing the sentiments of patriotism which were voiced by the Brazilian ambassador and expressing the thanks of their governments for the tender of good offices.

Today's proceedings were chiefly concerned with preliminary organization.

Method of Procedure.

The following method of procedure was approved:

"First, the plenipotentiaries of Brazil, Argentina and Chili will preside over the conferences. The Brazilian ambassador will direct the proceedings of the conferences.

"Second, the minutes of the proceedings will be signed by the representatives and three mediators; they will be countersigned by the three secretaries of the mediators and said minutes shall be drafted in English, Spanish and Portuguese and five copies thereof shall be made namely, one copy for each of the representatives and one copy for each of the mediators. The deliberations shall be secret.

"Third, the full conference will be held, first, for the expression of

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MISS EMMA ALLEN ARE HELD WEDNESDAY

Large Number Gathers at Home on West State Street—Interment is Made in Diamond Grove.

Funeral services for Miss Emma Allen were held at the late residence, 812 West State street, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Members of Sorosis attended in a body. The services were conducted by Dr. A. B. Morey, assisted by Rev. H. D. French, pastor of State street Presbyterian church. Dr. Morey said in part:

"God's finger touched him and he slept," is Tennyson's description of death, and of all the mysteries that surround us that which God has to do with death makes it the most fearfully solemn. What is this strange visitor that comes unbidden into each of our homes? This cold, stiff state into which millions have passed in the ages since Adam and Eve lived in Paradise? Who can tell? But equally mysterious is life. The fact that we are here, that we came into being without our own knowledge or effort, that we breathe the air, move and speak, that we can think and reason and pass through the world unable to central a single event or to live a moment beyond the span of years allotted to us, all that is in itself a mystery. Yet all is still the touch of God's finger.

"Whenever we come to know that touch of God's finger we find that it is not all of death to die, or all of life to live here. Birth, life and death are but three steps from the unseparated eternity out of which we came into the eternal rest beyond. And I heard a voice from heaven saying write. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from henceforth. Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, for their works follow with them." Blessed too are the living who live in the Lord from henceforth. "Yea," saith the Spirit. "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow them all the days of their life and they shall dwell in the house of the Lord." Such was the ever living life to which, for a short time, we today say farewell. We may speak of her life as 'hid with Christ in God.'

"There is one word that can sum up her Christian life and that word is unselfishness. I remember well when she united with the church twenty-nine years ago. She shrank from the publicity of the profession, had a deep sense of her unworthiness, saw clearly the obligations of the step, but looked forward to it as an honor, for now she could do something for others. Her life has run parallel with the life of State Street church. Her history has been woven into the history of the church, as the warp is woven into the woof. In the days of her strength and vigor she was ever among the most active in all the departments of church work, teaching in the Sabbath school, decorating the church, serviceful in its social life and missionary work. She was one of the faithful members of Sorosis and prized her association with those who studied the great thoughts of the great thinkers. She was fond of books, but she once said, 'We oftentimes learn more from lives around us than we do from books.' The life she has left is more than an open book. It is a 'living epistle' set for our reading and the inspiring lesson we read is the work of the humblest life. The golden key that unlocks her useful life was her personal devotion to the Lord, Jesus Christ. Her absolute confidence in the authority of the Bible and the habitual use of prayer. She had no sympathy with any attempt to undermine the truth of the Scriptures or unsettle the faith of the believer. The practice of religion with her was a matter of principle, a part, and a controlling part of her daily life. It was the one thing above all others that she set herself to do. She was a firm friend, outspoken and loyal in her friendship. Here was one of those rare souls we meet only occasionally in this world of selfishness. Among the many things which I admired in her was the longing of her soul for the best gifts of God. As the poet Browning puts it, 'Instincts immature, purposes unsure that weigh not on her work, yet swelled the vast amount which all the world's coarse thumb and finger failed to plumb, so noised in making up the main account.'

"Whoever lays up things will have the things taken from him and only a cipher left. Whoever is struggling under ever so great discouragement and uncertainty towards God, and truth will find someday that the ciphers are taken away, but the integer remains. Think how many immature instincts and unsure purposes and voiceless longings go into any piece of work that is worth the doing. When we hear the magnificent Hallelujah chorus, do we stop to think of the hunger and fatigue and work behind it? Yet they are there and give it worth, for if it does not cost it does not count, such is the law of life. Both the seen and the unseen go to swell that main account. That is the secret of this longing to see what death is. One of the most natural feelings in regard to death is curiosity. We would like to know what is behind the door in that other mansion of our Father's house. Will it be a sudden surprise of glory, as we 'enter into joy of the Lord?' Thomas Hook had this epitaph on his tomb, 'Here endeth the first lesson.' After death comes the second. With the experiences our friend had, the struggle she had faced she knows just how to take up the next lesson.

As the Sabbath morning began to dawn she answered summons and ascended to enjoy Sabbath morning that 'has no need of a sun for the Lord God is the light thereof.' Behind and beyond the mist of death the light still shines and shall forever shine. Follow are the plaudits which the world shouts for those it calls great when they come into comparison with the well done, which shall welcome those who have been made 'meet for an inheritance with the saints in light.'

There was a large number of flowers which were cared for by Mrs. Miller Weir, Mrs. E. P. Brockhouse, Miss Ella Traube, Mrs. Warren Case and Mrs. J. G. Camps.

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the bearers were Gates Strawn, Dr. T. J. Pitner, Edward Dunlap, T. M. Tomlinson, Howard Russell, Judge E. P. Brockhouse, Warren Case and C. A. Johnson.

One of the most gratifying announcements that the present dramatic season has afforded, is that of the coming of Mrs. Fiske, with her sparkling comedy, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" Saturday. The announcement has been eagerly greeted, for in Jacksonville as well as in every other city the country over, Mrs. Fiske's position as the dominant figure of the American stage is unarguably granted. Her position has been gained by a record of accomplishment which stands alone in the affairs of the American stage and by intellectual qualities that make her, outside of her profession, one of the representative women of the country. Her new play will present her in a light quite unlike that of her former plays, since its mission is solely one of amusement. It is a happy, care-free production, and one in which the contrast between the Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh and Mrs. Fiske, and the Ibsen Mrs. Fiske, for instance, will be found positively startling, but doubly enjoyable, since it is the epitome of the unexpected.

LAWSUIT OVER OWNERSHIP OF OAKLAND AUTOMOBILE

Mrs. Sallie Wyatt of Franklin Charges Grover Grimsley With Embezzlement—Defendant Bound Over to the November Term of Circuit Court.

An interesting case came up in Squire Thomson's court Tuesday on a change of venue from Squire Dyar's court in which Mrs. Sallie Wyatt of Franklin is the principal prosecuting witness and Grover Grimsley of Franklin is the defendant. The charge as set out in the complaint was for the embezzlement of an Oakland automobile valued at $1375. The case was argued Tuesday and Wednesday.

The attorneys representing the state are: T. F. Smith, W. N. Hairgrove and George L. Merrill, while the defense was represented by Judge M. T. Layman and Hugh Green. Grimsley was bound over to the November term of the circuit court in the sum of $1,000.

According to the story told in the court, Mr. Grimsley used to drive a Ford automobile for Mrs. Wyatt and later this car was sold and an Oakland automobile purchased. Mr. Grimsley it is claimed bought the Oakland auto and a check of $275, was given and the balance of $1000 was in a note, signed by Mr. Grimsley and also Mrs. Wyatt. The car was purchased last November.

It was brought out in the testimony that of late Mr. Grimsley had been using the car in taking his friends riding and Mrs. Wyatt testified that there was an agreement that he was to take no one in the car unless she was along. Mr. Grimsley claimed that there was an agreement whereby she was to pay him 20c for every mile they rode together and according to that she is owing him money.

On the witness stand Mrs. Wyatt testified that she had done considerable riding with Mr. Grimsley and they had gone to Springfield, Jacksonville and other places where they attended shows, dinners. She claimed that wherever there were any bills to pay Mr. Grimsley paid them and she always refunded the money to him.

The evidence showed that the Oakland car was sold to Grimsley and it was his car, but that Mrs. Wyatt had an interest in it to the extent of money she had loaned Grimsley.

The attorney for the defense contended that inasmuch as the title to the car was in the defendant there could be no embezzlement of it; that Mr. Grimsley must therefore be discharged on his complaint and that the court had no power so to amend the complaint as to substitute another offense and the only thing to do was to discharge Mr. Grimsley and re-arrest him on a new complaint.

The defense held that Mr. Grimsley couldn't be held for embezzlement and the attorney for the state contended that he could amend their complaint so as to hold the defendant for embezzlement of the Ford automobile and for the embezzlement of money represented by the note.

The court held that a defendant who was in court on the complaint in regard to the Oakland auto could be bound over to the grand jury for investigation as to embezzlement of the other auto and of the note.

ILLINOIS HUNTERS SEE INJUSTICE IN FEDERAL MIGRATORY BIRD LAW

Say That Zones Should Be Extended to Make Measure Effective—Weeks-McLean Statute Prohibits Spring Shooting of Ducks.

The provision of the Weeks-McLean Federal Migratory Bird law which prohibits the shooting of ducks in this section of the country during the winter and spring months should be extended to include the territory along the southern portion of the Mississippi river in order to make the law of real use and save the ducks, say Illinois sportsmen. Large numbers of the birds are slaughtered along the Mississippi from Memphis south, a territory in which they remain longer than in this section. It is not so much the taking away of their spring duck-hunting that Illinois sportsmen object to, but the apparent discrimination against this locality and failure of the law to fulfill its real purpose. The open season for ducks, according to the federal law, is from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1. The state law allows them to be killed from the middle of August until April 15.

J. A. Groves of the Chicago Gun Club, in discussing the subject Wednesday evening, said that international agreement will be necessary before the ducks will be safe from indiscriminate killings. In Canada they are hunted on a larger scale, but suffer greater loss from wholesale destruction of the eggs.

The new law is not as yet being enforced and the supply of ducks is consequently being depleted in the forbidden territory above Memphis. A traveling representative of an ammunition house stated recently that he had positive knowledge of several violators in the vicinity of Quincy. A recent issue of the American Field, published in Chicago, says that the law has been further crippled by the refusal of the senate committee on agriculture to appropriate money for its enforcement. Jacksonville citizens and Illinois sportsmen generally find little fault with the purpose of the bill, but object to having their duck-shooting cut off when the birds are being killed in large numbers in other places and the Weeks-McLean being practically nullified.

The straw hats shown by FRANK BYRNS Hat Store are of so wide a range in styles and prices that any man can not fail to be pleased.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Russwinkel Observe Jubilee at Residence East of Mercedosia.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Russwinkel celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home east of Mercedosia Sunday, May 18, when 124 persons were present. The guests began to arrive as early as 9 o'clock and the day proved a most delightful one.

At 11 o'clock a short service was held, consisting of a German hymn, after which the 103rd Psalm was read. Then followed the address of the day by their pastor, Rev. P. A. Soerensen, who based his remarks on the words of Isaiah 54:10, "For the mountains may depart and the hills be removed, but my loving kindness shall not depart from thee."

As tokens of love and esteem, Herman Russwinkel was married to his present wife in Hanover, Germany, May 18, 1864, by Rev. Mr. Saverke. They are the parents of five children, all of whom are living. In the year 1883 they came to America and rented a farm near Concord where they resided 18 years and then bought the place where they now reside, in 1902. By hard work and close economy they have been able to save enough to care for their wants during their old age and on the anniversary many more wedding anniversaries were extended by the friend, among those present at the wedding anniversary were all of the children excepting one, five guests from Alma, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Victor Teeman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Teeman and baby and Mrs. Brueckner of St. Louis and August Meier Sr., who was present at the wedding of the couple in Germany fifty years ago.

the view of the representatives upon their requests; second for the presentation of basis of settlement, third, for their acceptance or rejection.

"Fourth, the conferences will be closed by a full final session at which will be stated all the particular circumstances which were considered in arriving at the final result of the conference."

An hour's conference was held tonight between the mediators and the American representatives which was almost wholly occupied by the presentation by the mediators of their views of the problem and their suggestions for its solution. These, it is understood, were placed before the American delegates informally.

The conferences were held in an oak paneled room furnished anew for the occasion and furnished only with a long table and twelve chairs, three for the mediators, three for the American delegates, three for the Mexicans and the others for attending secretaries.

The room is on the fourth floor of the Clifton Hotel, overlooking the falls. While shades dimming the strong sunlight, shut off the view during the session.

The knowledge that the conference dealt with problems of such world-wide attendance made the principals to the conference objects of conspicuous interest and their movements were followed by the lobby crowds with intense curiosity. Here and there a group of the Mexicans stood speaking in their native tongue.

Principals to the negotiations have prepared for a long stay and after a day of preliminary organization and formally, settled down to enjoy the surroundings.

SWITCHMEN FAVOR STRIKE

Chicago, May 20.—The 5,000 switchmen employed by the eighteen railroads in the Chicago switching district were nearly unanimously in favor of a strike, unless their demands for changes in wages and working conditions are granted by the roads, according to an announcement tonight by A. F. Whitney, vice-president of the Brotherhood of railroad trainmen. The final ballots of a strike vote were continued today. Mr. Whitney, who was empowered by the vote to conduct further negotiations said he expected to meet the conference committee of the railroads tomorrow. He would not say whether he expected the switchmen to be called out.

The entertainment and minstrel show given for Illini Lodge No. 4, I. O. O. F., Wednesday evening was well attended and full of fun from start to finish. The Odd Fellows' committee consisted of F. E. McDougall, Samuel Stevens and C. O. Bayha.

A pleasing feature of the entertainment was the children's chorus in which the performers were Miss Dorris Robinson, Margaret Dods-worth, Bessie Abernathy and Helen Mahoney. This chorus will appear Friday evening at the Grand Opera house.

Following are the solo numbers with Misses Mardell McDougall, Maude Haxton, Amanda Schildman, Mabel Berry, Nina Mahoney and Ethel Reeve, composing the chorus:

In this 35-horsepower car, every driving part is made to meet the requirements of a 50-horsepower engine. And every test goes far beyond the usual requirements.

FOR INSTANCE

For years we have kept test chassis on the road. Relays of drivers have run them at high speed night and day. After 10,000 miles of this reckless driving we take the car apart and inspect it.

Not only must the chassis stand that test, but every vital part must stay new. It must show but little evidence of wear.

We could build this car for one-

It pays us to give you the utmost in a car. We have in this way held the lead in our class. The demand for such cars has grown and grown, faster than we could supply it.

RAILWAY & LIGHT CO., WILL CONSTRUCT NEW POWER PLANT

Plan for $75,000 Building Announced by Mr. Miser Wednesday on Return From Peoria.—Will Embody Many Modern Improvements.

A beltless power plant, equipped with the most modern generating machinery and containing the highest smoke stack in the city is what Superintendent W. B. Miser promises for the city within the next few months.

Superintendent Miser returned Wednesday from Peoria, where he met Vice President Executive H. E. Chubbuck, of the Illinois Traction System, and secured approval for the expenditure of $75,000 for the new plant.

According to preliminary plans the new structure will be a marked addition to the industrial development of Jacksonville, and the action of the company in planning for the improvement will be appreciated by the citizens in general.

The new plant will be located at the site of the present power plant, corner South Main and Anna streets, and will be 100 feet by 110 feet in dimensions. It will be a two-story structure, built entirely of brick, concrete and steel. The ground floor will contain the heater-room, boiler-room and engine-room, and the second floor will contain the coal storage. One of the interesting features will be the unique method of handling the coal and ashes without the use of a single shovel. The coal up on delivery to the plant will be picked up by a conveyor and carried to the bunkers on the second floor. From the bunker it will be delivered by gravity and fed automatically into the furnaces. As the coal is consumed the ashes will drop below into another conveyor which will carry them automatically outside the plant to the car or wagon in which they will be carried away.

The generators and engines will be of the direct-driven type which will eliminate all use of belting. The smoke stack serving the plant will be of concrete construction and will measure 200 feet in height by a diameter of 10 feet.

It is anticipated that this plant will double the capacity of the present plant, and by the use of modern methods will not only produce electrical energy more economically but will also furnish a service of much higher efficiency. As soon as the contracts have been awarded it is expected to rush the work on the new structure.

A STUBBORN COUGH IS WEARING AND RISKY.

Your system is run down and you have but a low degree of vital resistance when a cough "hangs on" as often happens in the spring of the year. Chronic diseased conditions of the nose and throat result, and a good many cases of lung trouble are directly due to neglected colds. Foley's Honey and Tar is thoroughly effective in cases of stubborn racking coughs, bronchial coughs, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchial asthma and the chronic coughs of elderly people. It is very healing and soothing to the inflamed mucous membranes, and should always be in the household where there are children, as it is the best and safest thing you can give your child for croup or whooping cough. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, and that alone recommends it to careful parents. And its superior healing and soothing qualities, and its quick beneficial action, makes it the best medicine for coughs and colds that you can buy. In 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles everywhere. Do not take any but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. For sale by City Drug Co. and J. A. Obermeyer.—adv

RECALL PERDICARIS KIDNAPING

Washington, May 20.—Officials and clerks in the navy department have not had much idle time on their hands of late, but some of the veteran attaches of the department in a spare moment today recalled the fact that a little "war scare" was in the air just ten years ago on this date. It was on May 20, 1904, that the country was set a-butter by an order sending the whole American squadron to Tangiers on account of the kidnapping of Perdicaris, an American citizen, by Arabs. Happily the captive was released by the kidnapers and the American vessels returned home without being put to the necessity of firing a shot.

The Daily Work

By WALT MASON.

Though nations may combat, and war's weapons rattle, we shouldn't go batty, neglecting our chores, we'd better be busy dehorning the cattle than stand around cussing those Mexican bores. Our ships will look after the national honor; it's wasted endeavor to argue and yawp, when we should be rustling, a-mowing the lawn or destroying the thistles which ruin the crop. Oh, some of us tell how we'd like to be sloshing around in the blood of those Mexican jays, and people who know that our wives take in washing are not much impressed by the racket we raise. Our bulwarks are safe, and the nation's escutcheon (if any one knows what the dickens that is), is sicker than beeswax, so let us be touchin' the saw and the sawbuck, and get down to biz. Let's tend to our duties with business-like ardor, and put up our hay in the light of the sun; let's stock up the woodshed and also the larder, and talk about war when the day's work is done.

BIRTHDAY OF PIONEER

Elizabeth, N. J., May 20.—The Rev. Dr. Antoinette Louisa Brown Blackwell, the oldest survivor of the pioneers of the equal suffrage movement in America, quietly celebrated her 89th birthday anniversary at a home in this city today. Messages of greeting from suffrage organizations and personal friends in all parts of the country were received. Mrs. Blackwell attended and took a prominent part in the first woman's rights convention held in Worcester, Mass., in 1849. In the years that followed she was intimately associated in the cause with Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Susan B. Anthony and other pioneers of the movement who have since passed away.

In addition to being the oldest living equal suffrage advocate Mrs. Blackwell has the distinction of being the oldest woman minister in this country. She studied at Oberlin Theological seminary and was ordained to the ministry in 1853. Because the Congregationalist church would not permit of a woman regularly filling a pulpit she severed her connection with that denomination and embraced Unitarianism. She is pastor emerita of All Souls Unitarian church in this city.

MRS. FISKE.
The art of Mrs. Fiske seems ever greater, ever broader, with its every new exposition, and her appearances in "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" are said to cause one to marvel anew at its wonderful versatility. It would seem from the effect conveyed to the auditor that the role of "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh" is one in which Mrs. Fiske takes an infinite delight, since a more thoroughly natural and ebullient performance, it is said, has seldom been seen. This impression must be well within the facts, since Mrs. Fiske herself is authority for the statement that the part is a continual joy to her. It certainly must be an artistic and mental relaxation, differing so completely as it does from the serious plays with which she has been so extensively associated.

It is to be Jacksonville theatre goers good fortune to see Mrs. Fiske in this tradition-overturning, laughter-provoking vehicle on Saturday evening, May 23.

Putting on the Fat

Out on my farm I am giving a practical demonstration of what can be accomplished with the Wood's Grain Softener.

There are 43 cattle in the bunch. Each steer is getting a peek of corn daily. It is ground, cob and all and then cooked. In addition to the corn, each steer gets about nine pounds of clover hay a day and straw is near them all the time. A man with long experience, who has been watching these cattle, says they are putting on three to four pounds a day. They are sure making good money and the reason is that corn prepared in my cooker has far more nutriment value than fed in the ordinary way. Come and see these cattle.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

Stuffy McInnis on Tuesday was contrary enough to take a wallop at one of Eddie Cicotte's "disables" shoots in the eighth inning, shooting the pill into safe territory between Weaver and Alcott. This wide-open ball cost the White Sox knuckle artist the honor of attaining a perfect pitching record—two of which only are chronicled in the book of records; one by a pitcher long since dead, and the other by one of the retired phenoms. Until that lapse in the eighth, not a man in the Mack line-up was permitted to see first base. Eddie's knuckle was breaking grandly; his control was superb. And the team behind him was working at its best and clouting the opposing pitchers freely.

Baltimore's Federal officials declare that if Frank Smith is anxious to jump back into o. b. they are not going to attempt to stop him. The piano hustler is now in Montreal and has come to terms with the management of the Royals. Until he "throws a fit" and has another spell, Frank's name will not appear outside of the box score—he long since has become a dead one on account of his idiosyncrasies.

Ritchie declined the services of Abe Attel to assist him in his training for the Charley White go. On Tuesday, the ex-featherweight champion went over to the Ghetto camp and will coach White until the day of the mill.

Friends of the running turf in Louisiana are putting up a stiff fight in the Pelican legislature for the repeal of the anti-racing laws and the creation of a racing commission to have general supervision of the sport. With the disturbing and rule or ruin element out of the game mining rock for macadamized roads and following other lines, the people of New Orleans are anxious to again reap the harvest of good northern dollars during the winter outings and at the Mardi Gras festivities in the city of the crescent.

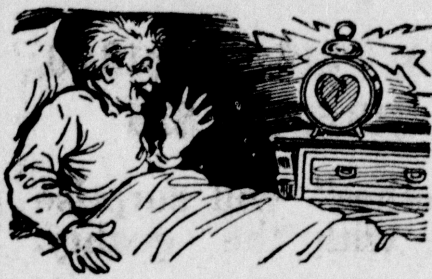

Washington is agitated because of a report that Walter Johnson, Al Smith and Milan are going to stop in the Pittsburgh Federals next year. A question of salary is said to be back of the move; but next season is a long ways off. In the meantime, Griffith will have ample time to solder the leaks.

A correspondent writing to R. W. Lardner, controller of "In the Wake of the News," unbosoms himself as follows concerning a ball tosser well known hereabouts: "Cultivate a certain pitcher on the White Sox. He equals your Jack. When with Dubuque last season he used to say: 'Walter Johnson has nothing on me for smoke.' Again, when Rowland took him to Chicago to pitch for Commy: 'When I uncork my spitter for Comiskey Walsh'll look like a bushier.' Again, when one of Dubuque's young pitchers struck out a good batter: 'That's the stuff. You look like me out there.' When another pitcher was selected to pitch for Dubuque on a 'big day' this guy packed his suitcase, dropped it out of the hotel window in the middle of the night and disappeared. That's just what he'll do with the White Sox if Callahan doesn't let him pitch pretty soon. But get him quick. He's a meal ticket." Lardner's correspondent is "well onto" Jasper. Down this way there is a suspicion that before long Callahan or Gleason will be searching the back lots of Kerry Patch in St. Louis for the eccentric Hy. He just dotes on "rushing the can" of bubbling suds in that pasture for goats, tin cans and ragged rocks.

Killifer has recovered from his injuries and is back in the Minneapolis line-up. His recent beaming has</

System Awakens With Pure Blood

In Mind and Body the Change is Wonderful.

After the depression, the stagnation, the despair over some blood disorder. It is fine to wake up to what S. S. S. has accomplished for you after a few days' use. It puts the nerves and blood in harmony; it arouses the cellular activity of the liver, kidneys, lungs, and other excretory organs to remove from the blood the body wastes that cause nearly all sickness.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to catalytic medicine than ever before and S. S. S. is one of the highest achievements in this line. For many years people relied upon mercury, iodine of potash, arsenic cathartics and "dope" as remedies for blood sickness, but now the pure, vegetable S. S. S. is their safeguard.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The great Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist without charge, address Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 537 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

American Soldiers on Duty on Outskirts of Vera Cruz, Routing Out Suspected Native Spies.

Photos copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.

United States soldiers and marines are drawn up in a strong guard around Vera Cruz. They extend in a semicircle about the city, from shore to shore. The line at its farthest is ten miles from the main part of the city. One of these pictures shows the soldiers on duty near the thatched huts of some of the natives on the outskirts. They are looking for spies. The other shows a group of soldiers in the sand dunes aiming at suspicious persons to scare them away.

What the Chamber of Commerce is Not.

The Chamber of Commerce is not a secret organization.

It is not a religious group.

It is not a monopolistic body.

It is working for the best interests of the community and not for any one individual or group of individuals.

It is not narrow or self-centered, and is ready to meet any duty which the city presents.

It recognizes merit. It emphasizes civic and social duties. It represents hundreds of citizens of Jacksonville who have shown their willingness to make an investment in the welfare of the city, and whose affiliation is proof in itself to their circle of acquaintances that they believe in the Chamber and in those who are carrying on its activities.

It believes in service not only for its members, but also for the city. Its officers have that vision of service.

It may well be said that the Chamber of Commerce emphasizes that motto: "One For All and All For One."

About Time Morgan County Should Be Doing It.

During the last two or three years many counties in Illinois and other states are organizing crop improvement bureaus and employing county agents or agricultural experts.

Bankers, railroads, business men and farmers are co-operating with the federal and state government for the betterment of agriculture throughout the country. Many counties which are less populous than Morgan county are raising large sums of money for this kind of work.

What a County Agent Is.

A county agent, more often termed a farm demonstrator or crop expert, is a man of practical farm experience with an agricultural education. He works under the joint supervision and direction of the farmers, the state agricultural college and the United States department of agriculture to assist in determining the best agricultural practices for the community in which he is located. In the term agricultural practices is included the problems of distribution as well as production. The farm demonstrator is the hired hand of the farmer and although bankers and business men make large contributions for the support of the organization which employs him, nevertheless, his work cannot have any strings tied to it.

What a Few Counties Are Doing.

A long list of activities can be attributed to the work of these county agents. Here are some of the things which some of the counties are doing.

In Nebraska, $195,000 has been raised for this kind of an agricultural propaganda. $1290 will be paid to any county establishing a crop improvement bureau.

Tazewell county, Illinois, the County Farm Bureau held seventy-three farmers' meetings at which there were in attendance 3368 persons.

Seventy-three county organizations provide their agents with automobiles in order that their services can be more efficient.

Even the city of Chicago was awakened to the fact that they need a county organization for an improvement of production and bettering market conditions.

Portage county, Ohio raised $23,125, having 1,761 members pledging $10.00 a piece for five years.

Such are the glowing reports which come from many sections of the country. Isn't it about time that the farmers and land owners of Morgan county are awakening up to the fact that agricultural production in this county can be greatly increased through co-operation and organization? We are as badly in need of a county advisor as many other neighboring counties which boast of just as fertile virgin soil.

Transportation Committee's Good Work.

Yesterday the conference between W. C. Hurst, vice-president of the C. P. & St. L. and the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce was productive of good results for Jacksonville. The proposed change of having the C. P. & St. L. afternoon train leave Jacksonville at 2:05 instead of 3:15 would have worked an untold injury on many customers living along this road and would have prevented them coming to Jacksonville to trade.

Many merchants and persons in Jacksonville, who would have been inconvenienced by this change should congratulate the Chamber of Commerce for their foresight and activity in this direction.

The Road to Success.

SULPHUR DRIES UP ECZEMA AND STOPS ITCHING

This Old Time Skin Healer is Used Just Like Cold Cream.

With the first application of bold-sulphur cream the angry itching attending any eczema eruption ceases and its remarkable healing powers begin. Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur, made into a thick cream will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated, inflamed skin, the same as you would any cold cream.

For many years this soothing, healing sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticide, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably healing in all irritable and inflammatory conditions of the skin. While not always establishing a permanent cure it never fails to instantly subdue the irritation and heal the Eczema right up and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.

Come to see the unadvertised special. It will be a pleasant surprise and worth coming for.

MENTIONED FOR MODERATOR. Chicago, May 20.—For two days commissioners and visitors to the 126th General Assembly of the Presbyterian church have been arriving in Chicago, and at noon today practically all of those who will attend were in the city. Many of the delegates from the east came by special trains. Every arrangement for the comfort of the 850 commissioners has been completed, and the spacious auditorium of the new Fourth Presbyterian church, which commands the admiration of all, is ready for the retiring moderator to ascend the rostrum and deliver the opening sermon.

Though there are no candidates for the moderatorship in the strict sense of the word, supporters of the several prominent clergymen whose names have been mentioned for the honor have engaged today in an active, though good natured, canvass. The names most frequently heard in the informal discussions among the commissioners and other church leaders is that of the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander of the First church of Pittsburgh. Dr. Alexander stood second in the voting in the general assembly last year and his friends are preparing to make a vigorous contest in his behalf at the present gathering. The candidacy of the Rev. Dr. George S. Stuart, president of Auburn Theological seminary, also appears to be gaining ground.

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS. Kansas City, Mo., May 20.—All the high officers and many leading ministers, missionaries and prominent laymen of the Presbyterian church in the United States, commonly known as the Presbyterian church, South, are in Kansas City in readiness for the opening tomorrow of the annual meeting of the general assembly. The states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia are embraced in the general assembly, and delegates will be present from all. The gathering will be opened at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning with the sermon of the retiring moderator. A new moderator will be elected at the afternoon session. Several candidates are in the field for the honor. Delegates from North Carolina presbyteries will endeavor to have Winston-Salem selected as the meeting place for the general assembly next year.

ORDER OF FOREIGN WARS. Washington, May 20.—The Military Order of Foreign Wars, which was organized 29 years ago by veterans and descendants of veterans of one or more of the four foreign wars which the United States has been engaged in, assembled in this city today for its triennial national congress. The attendance includes representatives of the state commanderies existing in Pennsylvania, California, Massachusetts, Virginia, New York, Louisiana, Indiana, Michigan, New Jersey and a number of other states. Since the order was formed in 1891 the United States has been engaged in two foreign wars the war with Spain and the China campaign and there is much speculation among the delegates as to the probability of another being added to the list as a result of the present troubles in Mexico.

AT THE DAVENPORT HOME IN ALEXANDER PRECINCT

Large Farm Is Managed Successfully—Methods of Mr. Davenport Vary From Some of His Neighbors, but Bring Good Results.

It is a source of no small pleasure to travel through the county of Morgan and note the many comfortable homes and the many which are more than that; really fine and unusually attractive. Homes surrounded by splendid fields and fine buildings and all that tends to make life worth living.

Such a home is the residence of William M. Davenport and family a short distance east of Orleans. Here it is that Mr. Davenport has 324½ acres of fine, black land and well supplied with outbuildings of all kinds. When visited by the writer the gentleman was busy with a force of teams excavating a large pond, or rather a small lake adjacent to his outbuildings and when the affair is completed he will have a place which will be worth much to him, as he will stock it with fish and as it will be helped when necessary by a near by never failing well it will be fine for stock water and all other purposes for which such a body of water is used.

Knowing Mr. Davenport's success as a farmer the writer naturally concluded the gentleman's views and experiences would be valuable and some of them are hereby offered.

He is not yet ready to give up cattle feeding and as done by him it so far has proved a success. However, he doesn't follow the old time methods of buying his three year old farms, hauling them shock corn and throwing it on the ground. Far from it. In the first place he doesn't feed any steers at all, but calves altogether. He goes to Kansas City and buys animals about six months old and eschews adult animals entirely, for the young ones pay better.

He says his experience has shown him that under favorable circumstances a steer will put on about 80 pounds a month. Three calves will thrive on the feed one steer will eat and under favorable circumstances each calf will put on 52 pounds a month, so that from three calves he gets 156 pounds, against 80 from a steer, a fact which needs no explanation. He says he has had no trouble so far to get all the calves he wanted at Kansas City.

He always prefers the white face. Hereford, for feeding, as they put on flesh and make the best show according to his experience. He feeds about eight months and ships the calves himself generally and to Chicago, which he finds the best market.

He has his own way of feeding, which he finds has paid well. He grinds his feed and says he thinks it goes one-fourth farther than it would otherwise. He has an 18 horse power engine and a No. 8 Bowser mill and with the outfit he can grind a bushel of corn on the cob each minute of the day. He feeds this corn and cob meal and finds it produces the best results. He has self feeders, into which he puts the meal and has an opening of three to four inches, from which the calves get the meal and finds this is the best plan, as the meal comes through fast enough in that way and not too fast.

For roughness during cold weather he likes clover hay the best and always has plenty on hand. He also uses some wheat and corn fodder. He feeds in a building 32 by 60 feet with concrete floor, a crib on the north side with racks for feeding roughness. The structure is open to the south and warm and attractive to the calves always.

Mr. Davenport is especially down on anything that tends to lessen the strength of the land and to that end saves all that is likely to benefit the soil. To burn a rick of straw he regards akin to a crime, when it can be averted.

He beds with wheat straw, hauling in a load one day, shaking it up and taking out the refuse and in three days adding another to it and in a week he has fourteen loads of good fertilizer to haul out and put on his land. By this means the strength of the soil is ever maintained and if anything increased.

Clover he sows among wheat as soon in the spring as he can harrow the field each way. Then the material from the feeding shed makes 14 loads for the manure spreader and this is placed on the wheat fields and almost always insures a crop of clover. He says he doesn't like hard work well enough to raise 50 bushels of corn from an acre when 100 may be raised as well with a little intelligence. He is always most careful to maintain the fertility of his land and for that purpose is in no hurry to remove or plow under the clover. The first year he gets what he can and lets the field stand another year before plowing it and then with plenty of the crop on the land to be turned under it is easy to see what a crop of corn may be expected.

He feeds a good many hogs and finds them also profitable on the place. He uses almost entirely the Poland China and while admitting that they are sometimes too delicate and small, he tries to overcome that by getting the right kind of a boar. This he finds the most successfully at the state fairs, where he has a selection from a large number of breeding animals.

He says the trouble has been with inbreeding, keeping a boar on a place too long and being careless in matters generally. He selects a boar with a straight back, good head, wide shoulders, low down ham, some spots on him to show good breeding, healthy and sound. With such an animal on the place good pigs may be expected if one has sows at all worth while. Hogs generally produce two litters of pigs a year, one in early spring and one not later than September, if possible.

His hogs follow the calves, for though the latter eat ground corn, still hogs may follow them with good results. About two hogs to three calves will be the best.

The pigs he lets the sows wean, paying little attention to that himself, preferring to let nature take her course in that respect. The pigs he feeds some corn non the grass and plenty of clover hay in the winter. In the winter, for his young pigs, he soaks the corn and gives them some shorts.

He lays great stress on the importance of keeping hogs clean. He takes away the manure from the feeding shed regularly, for a hog is naturally as clean an animal as we have and should be kept in clean, wholesome quarters, good smelling, plenty of pure, clear water supplied in a self drinker.

In this way he has suffered less from hog cholera but once in eleven years. Three years ago when the hog cholera was so prevalent he had 40 sows, 20 black and 20 red. Of these he lost five red and two black sows and of 303 pigs he lost 116 and this at a time when the scourge was so general and wiping out everything on the place that wore bristles.

As has already been said, Mr. Davenport prefers to raise a thousand and bushels of corn on ten acres to raising it on twenty acres and acts accordingly. He rotates with wheat, oats and clover and feeding on the wheat and using the straw after it has served as bedding, he fully maintains the fertility of his land.

He has one field of 27 acres which had never been plowed and on which the late James Strawn had red a great deal of stock. In 1911 it produced 11½ bushels to the acre; in 1912, 11½ bushels and last year when the weather was so hot and dry it produced 30 bushels to the acre. If any one can beat that record the columns of the Journal are open to him to tell his story.

He generally prefers the Reid Yellow Dent corn. He will have a large field of clover and will feed his hogs on it, adding much to its fertility. Then he cuts what is needed for winter feed and plows the rest under and thus gets a field as rich as one could ask or expect. He breaks his field in the fall, prepares the ground thoroughly and invariably drills in the seed. He puts on the furrow openers on the planter and drills in about a bushel of seed to seven and a half acres. He always tries to get ahead and keep ahead of the weeds and gives them no chance to start.

After well preparing the ground for the planter he puts in the seed. He argues that it is better to have a single seed by itself than to have it in a hill with two others and thus gets better results by drilling in the seed.

His first cultivation is with eight shovels, when the corn is small and he can get close to it. The next time, before the roots spread much, he cultivates deep and then generally twice after, not so deep, as it injures the roots of the corn.

If the weather is very dry he takes a piece of two by four thirty inches long, bores holes in it and puts in it the shovels and drags the surface, making a dust cultivation. Last year when it was so dry he cultivated his corn while it was in tassel and, as stated, had 30 bushels to the acre.

He cuts some of his corn and much of it husks standing and always grinds it for his stock, as he says it pays admirably. He uses wheat to get his land changed, but doesn't think much of sowing it among growing corn, as much of the land is lost in that way and it is too much like forcing nature.

He would like a silo if one were to feed stock or steers during the winter, but for his calves he prefers clover hay, which he gets by changing the land, so has little need of a silo. It would be a good thing possibly, too, for a person owning a smaller tract of land than he has.

Oats he doesn't consider a paying crop, but uses them sometimes in the spring, following with wheat after the oats are cut.

This year he has 90 acres of wheat, 120 of corn and 45 of oats and the rest of the farm is in grass.

SESSION ON STOCK EXCHANGE

IS VERY DULL AND UNINTERESTING

Trading is Professional and Monotony of List is Removed Only by Movement of M. P. & Western Maryland.

New York, May 20.—The session on the stock exchange today was devoid of interesting developments.
Trading was dull and professional throughout and the monotony of the list was removed only by the heaviness of such issues as Missouri Pacific and Western Maryland whose affairs are admittedly unsatisfactory.
The shares and bonds of these companies fell from 1 to 5 points. Chesapeake & Ohio, New Haven, American Smelting and some of the utilities, including People's Gas and Consolidated Gas were intermittently heavy, but net changes, specially among the leaders were negligible.
Weakness in the issues mentioned affected the general bond list, prices falling on reduced dealings. Total sales (par value) amounted to $1-400,000.

GRAND JURY DISMISSED FOR THE TERM WEDNESDAY

Henry Trial Set For Monday, May 25th—Reports on County Home, Court House and Jail Made.

In the circuit court Wednesday, expected action was taken and the trial of John Henry for murder was set for Monday, May 25th. Attorneys for both the people and the defense have stated that they are ready for trial but there are still some people who believe that a continuance will arise in one way or another. It was reported yesterday that E. E. Hairgrove of Kansas City had been retained to assist with the defense.

Those who still believe that a continuance will be asked for by either the state or the defense point to the fact that Jesse Henry, a brother of the defendant who can reasonably be expected to take an active part in the case recently suffered an accident which resulted in a broken leg and may not be able to appear in court by the coming week. They also lay some stress on the fact that while Assistant States Attorney T. P. Smith has made preparation for trial and has three associates that State's Attorney Tilton's illness may result in a continuance.

The case against Frank Nunes, Mrs. Mary Nunes and Jacob Ornelas charged with the murder of Antonio Nunes has been set for Monday, June 1st. It has been announced that Assistant State's Attorney Smith and J. O. Priest will be attorneys for the state and that William N. Hairgrove and John M. Butler will appear for the defense. The court appointed P. P. Thompson and John M. Butler to defend Dick Wallace and Essie March who are charged with horse stealing and grand larceny. Hugh M. Green was appointed to defend Lloyd Hare, charged with burglary and larceny.

The case of Mrs. Jennie Barbour against the estate of John W. Crum is now on trial in which the complainant is asking for a large sum alleged to be due for services in Mr. Crum's household. The attorneys for Mrs. Barbour are J. O. Priest and L. O. Vaughn and the estate is represented by W. T. Wilson and William N. Hairgrove. The case is being heard on an appeal from the county court.

The grand jury made its final report Monday noon and was discharged. The recommendations with reference to the County Home and Jail and Court House are as follows:

County Jail and Court House.
"Jacksonville, Ill., May 18, 1914.
"To the Honorable Norman L. Jones, Judge of the Morgan County Circuit Court.

"We, the committee appointed by the foreman of the grand jury of the May, 1914, term of the circuit court, to investigate the county jail and court house, beg to make the following report:

"On investigating the jail we found eight persons detained there, seven males, six white and one colored and one female. We found the jail to be in good, clean, sanitary condition and the prisoners clean and well fed. We were also informed by the sheriff, W. B. Rogers, that all necessary repairs were in progress.

"In our inspection of the court house we found it in good, clean, sanitary condition. We gave attention and consideration to the stone walk on the approach to the court house and deem it to be in unsafe condition and we would respectfully call the attention of the board of county commissioners to the same.

"We wish to expressly commend Sheriff Rogers for the splendid condition of both the court house and jail.

"Respectfully submitted,
"J. E. Turner,
George E. Dewese,
"John S. Hart."

The County Home.
"Jacksonville, Ill., May 16, 1914.
"To the Honorable Norman L. Jones, Judge of the Circuit Court of Morgan County.

"Greeting: We, the committee of the May term, A. D., 1914, grand jury, appointed to visit and inspect the county farm and jail of this county, beg to submit the following report of our official findings:

"Friday afternoon, May 15, most of the members of the grand jury of this May term visited the county farm. Frank Todd, the superintendent, conducted us all about the farm, beginning with the hog pasture where we found 21 fine brood sows, with 153 fine pigs, 21 head of fine fall pigs, two brood sows to pig in June and two male hogs.

"The superintendent reported to us the recent sale of 40 head of hogs averaging 200 pounds each. We find that there are 200 bushels of old corn on hand; also eight tons of timothy hay.

"From the hog lots we visited the barn and other out buildings, some of which are in course of repair. We find the house and cow barn in good condition and in them is kept four head of horses and one team his son was using with a roller and one team of mules which were in use plowing potatoes.

"We then visited a lot where is kept four heifers and five calves. We then went over thoroughly 75 acres of wheat, which is looking well; 14 acres of oats, exceptionally fine; also fourteen acres of clover, which is a splendid stand.

"Then we visited the cow pasture where are kept eight milk cows in splendid condition. We then crossed a new timothy patch and inspected a 3 1-2 acre patch of potatoes and the garden, in which is a great variety of vegetables and 300 cabbage plants, recently set out, all doing well.

After this we inspected the home, finding 19 males and 7 female inmates. We inspected all of the rooms and quarters, finding the beds, bedding, wall and floors all in good condition. We then visited the superintendent's apartments and found them well kept.

"The members are under obligation to the superintendent for the information furnished.

"We wish to commend the splendid condition in which we found all of the property and the well kept lawn, and beautiful flowers, all of which are in the best of condition.

"Respectfully submitted,
"John Hadden,

Splendid for Rheumatism.
"I think Chamberlain's Liniment is just splendid for rheumatism," writes Mrs. Dunburgh, Eldridge, N. Y. "It has been used by myself and other members of my family time and again during the past six years and has always given the best of satisfaction." The quick relief from pain which Chamberlain's Liniment affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by all dealers.—adv.

Beginning at nine o'clock there will be a grand march about the school grounds and in this all will participate and the sight will be attractive with so many little folks in line.

Next will be a representation of the four seasons in poses or tableaux showing spring, summer, autumn and winter. Then will follow a group of primary folk games.

JACKSONVILLE WINS TEAM SHOOT

PULLS AWAY FROM SPRINGFIELD IN FINALS

High Amateur Honors Won by G. T. Hall of Laomi With James A. Groves a Close Second.—Next Shoot to be Held at McPulaski, June 2-3.—Score of Shooters.

Jacksonville was the winner in the finals of the team shoot of the Central Illinois Trap Shooters league which concluded its spring tournament here Wednesday, under the auspices of the Nichols Park Gun Club. G. T. Hall of Laomi won the honors of high amateur with J. A. Groves a close second. The members voted to hold the next league shoot at Mt. Pulaski, June 2-3.

The crowd was considerably larger Wednesday, than marked the first day's shooting and the interest much keener. It was by far one of the most contests ever held under the local gun club's management. Over 20,000 targets were trapped.

Jacksonville had to use seven men in the team shoot as three men tied at 22. They were:

W. T. Craig 25
J. B. Corrington 24
Wesley Robertson 24
C. R. Knollenberg 23
Port Corrington 22
Ned Greenleaf 22
W. Zahn 22

The program started at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and closed at 5 o'clock. There were six clubs in the race. Jacksonville scored 118 out of 125; Springfield 111 out of 125; Decatur 97 out of 125. Craig was high in the team shoot and before he can claim a trophy will have to be high in four more tournaments.

G. T. Hall won the honors for high amateur missing 19 out of 300. J. A. Groves ran him a close second, missing 20 out of 300; A. C. Connor of Springfield was third with 22 and Wesley Robertson 23. Bart Lewis was handicapped 20 yards and made 264 out of the 300. Connor and Hall tied for high average in Wednesday's shoot.

Six gold watch fobs were donated to the six highest gunners in the two days regular program by the Interstate Association.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WILL GIVE OPINION ON ROAD MATERIALS

Suggestions Will Be Filed With State Highway Department—Average Cost of Brick and Concrete Pavements Given.

By one of the provisions of the Tice Road law the Morgan county board of commissioners will sometime soon inform the Illinois state highway department the views of the board as to the best type of hard road construction to be followed in this county. It is probable that varying views will be sent to the department from different counties in the state but the department will complete its arrangements for the construction of roads in accordance of its own best judgment. In other words the suggestions made by Morgan county commissioners and other county officials are merely of an advisory character.

In this connection the preliminary estimate of the state highway department on the cost of hard road construction is interesting. The figures are based upon a haul of from one to two miles; stone or gravel at $1.00 per ton; cement at $1.15 per barrel; sand at 90c per ton; and brick at 90c per one square yard. Using these figures as a basis the estimated cost per mile of a brick pavement $13,500 and for a concrete pavement of the same width $9,000. The estimated cost of a brick pavement 10 feet wide with 4 foot shoulders is $14,900 per mile and for a concrete pavement 10 feet wide with 4 foot shoulders, $10,400. The estimated cost for a brick pavement 18 feet wide is $24,300 per mile and for a concrete pavement of the same width $16,200.

The following figures with reference to road material and to average width as maintained in various states are taken from U. S. Dept. of Agricultural reports. For a macadam road, the average width runs from 12 to 15 feet as a road-way 12 feet wide allows vehicles to pass safely. However this is a little narrow for automobiles. If the road is less than 12 feet wide the edges are likely to be sheared off by the wheels of the vehicles. Shoulders in road construction must be firm and strong if the work is at all durable. In Kentucky turnpikes are made from 12 to 20 feet wide with dirt roads at the side. Statistics from 31 states show the average width of gravel roads therein to be 13 feet. Statistics also show that the average cost of bituminous gravel roads in 10 different states have been $10,348 per mile. It will be noticed that these figures are very close to the estimate made by the state highway department.

The average widths of hard roads whether made of macadam, gravel or shells in the several states are as follows:

Arkansas, 10 feet.
Delaware, Indiana and Ohio, 12 feet.
California and Maryland, 13 feet.
Connecticut, Kentucky, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, 14 feet.

Massachusetts and Maine, 15 feet.
Alabama and Vermont, 16 feet.
While active road construction or rather the expenditure of the Tice Road fund has been held up pending a decision on the law in the supreme court, a vast amount of preliminary work has been done. It is understood too that the state department has such confidence in the law being upheld that tentative orders for a large amount of materials have been placed and that delivery of these materials will be in almost at once when the decision of the court is made on the Tice law.

Chamber of Commerce Committee in Conference With General Manager Hurst Saves City from Another Railroad Inconvenience.

Thanks to the timely intervention of the Chamber of Commerce through its president, J. J. Reeve, and F. H. Bode, head of the transportation department, the contemplated change of time in the C. P. & St. L. schedule whereby the afternoon train for the north would leave at 2 o'clock instead of 3:15, has been averted. At the close of a conference Wednesday afternoon with W. C. Hurst, general manager and vice president of the road, the promise was given that the leaving time of the train in question would not be earlier than 3 o'clock and that the schedule might remain unchanged. Mr. Hurst received the committee cordially, expressed appreciation of the kindly attitude of this city, and stated that Jacksonville should be entitled to respectful consideration with regard to all such demands of this kind. Mr. Hurst arrived Wednesday morning in his private car and remained for the conference in the afternoon.

"CHICK" EVANS AND HAROLD WEBER WIN ENGLISH MATCHES

Are Sole Representatives of U. S. For Next Round, Outmet, Herreshoff and Lockwood Being Defeated.

Sandwich, England, May 20.—Charles W. Evans Jr., of Chicago and Harold Weber of Toledo were victors in their respective contests today in the British amateur golf championship tournament. They are now the sole remaining representatives of the United States for the next round.

Francis Outmet the American open champion, Frederick Herreshoff of New York and Arthur G. Lockwood of Belmont Springs Country club, Massachusetts, lost their matches. Outmet and Herreshoff both made bad starts but finished brilliantly, which caused them to be as heartily cheered as the victors.

In the fourth round tomorrow Evans will meet C. B. MacFarlane, a Scottish international who won his way to the semi-final two years ago and was runner-up in the French championship the same year. MacFarlane is the best player Evans yet has had to meet.

Weber is drawn with Captain Cecil Hatchison another Scottish international, whose record is even better than that of MacFarlane.

Outmet's defeat by the youthful player Tubbs, of Little Stone, was totally unexpected and proved more of a surprise than Palmer's recent victory over Jerome D. Travers. All the American players are planning to enter the French championship and all except Travers will compete in the British open championship.

LITTLE EVIDENCE AGAINST PETRAS

State Depends Upon Identification of Knife to Solve Mystery of Murder of Theresa Hollander.

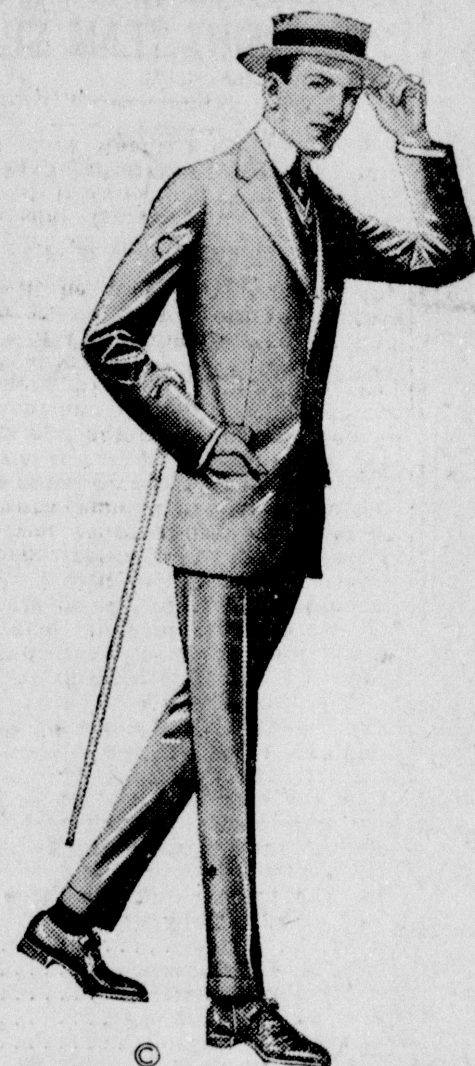

Aurora, Ill., May 20.—Upon the mute evidence of a pen-knife, the state depended today to solve the mystery of the murder of Theresa Hollander who was clubbed to death in St. Nicholas cemetery the night of February 16th.

Most of the testimony of a score of witnesses before the grand jury closed its inquiry this afternoon, related to the identification of the knife.

Witnesses swore that they had seen the knife at the home of A. C. Mathews, the father-in-law of Anthony Petras, former suitor of the slain girl. A former room-mate of Petras said that he had seen him with the knife.

It takes more than a piece of chalk and a tape-line to produce originality in clothes.

That's why some makers find their styles such a hit-and-miss proposition. True style must be genuine throughout—not a mere echo of someone else's genius.

"Society Brand"
Clothes have won the custom of punctiliously dressed men, simply because their style sparkles with the force and personality of a master-designer.
